THE FACTS:

- ✖ Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) is a major cause of death and disability in the United States.
- ✖ The severity of a Brain Injury (BI) can range from “mild” to “severe”.
- ✖ Those who survive a TBI can face effects lasting days to disabilities lasting a lifetime.

THE DISCONNECT:

- ✖ When a brain injury survivor is discharged from the hospital or rehabilitation center there are no instructions on what life will be like next.
- ✖ Families don't often know about the services and resources available to help the brain injury survivor.
- ✖ Families and/or friends don't know where to start to help their loved one(s).

THE SOLUTION

- ✖ Contact the Brain Injury Resource Center of Wisconsin, Inc.
- ✖ Our Resource Facilitation Team has a wealth of knowledge and resources that are ready to share!
- ✖ Through Resource Facilitation we assist families in getting follow-up medical care, provide resources to support the brain injury survivor along their journey, educate brain injury survivors on anything they need to become independent again and advocate on their behalf.

Brain Injury Survivors, whether traumatic or acquired, once they are far enough past their initial injury may present like everyone else with no major impairment that is identifiable.
